

Stuart Blyth

Best-selling Author, Speaker, Entrepreneur

This Game- Changing Entrepreneur, Author, will demonstrate how to build a championship-winning team for your business.

Stuart Blyth spent 25 years in corporate IT, with companies such as Oracle, Stellent, and Computron, successfully building business teams that consistently deliver increased revenues. An athlete and sports fanatic, Stuart clearly sees that effective management skills, prevalent in professional sports, are the missing link in the corporate structure. His unique training, keynotes, and consulting is a game changer for businesses interested in serious gains and ROI increase. Onlydo.online is the latest refinement to the philosophy on how to build your championship-winning team. Stuart's books, Football Field to Boardroom and From Pitch to Boardroom are available now at:

www.onlydo.online

SPEAKER AND MEDIA IDEAS

- How watching football plays can make you more successful at work. 3 strategies to watch for
- 3 Specific plays you can integrate into your personal business for immediate results
- "Football Field to Boardroom" strategy game will turn YOU into a Head Coach
- Expert reveals 5 ways to win the business equivalent of the Super Bowl
- 3 ways to out- strategize your competition to score big in business
- 7 ways to turn your business leaders into head coaches
- Why businesses need a radically different approach to team-building- 3 ways to shut out the competition
- *Are you in the end zone? The disruptive playbook will teach you the 5 essential coaching calls to get you there
- Are your coaching calls costing your company money? 5 Innovative new strategies for improved sales calls results

Would you like to learn how the best people-managers maximize their talent?

Can you identify your star players with the talent to take your company to championship level?

Business owners and corporations have a serious problem;

- They don't recognize the talents and abilities their employees possess.
- They don't understand how to utilize innate and key personality differences to their advantage, and
- They fail to personally engage with their employees.

These fatal mistakes are costing US businesses billions of dollars in lost revenues.

Unquestionably, the best people managers are the coaches of professional sports teams. They must know everything there is to know about each individual team member in their roster, and the stakes are high. Mistakes will cost them hundreds of millions of dollars. How to get the very best from each team member, is the expertise of the most successful coaches- and Stuart Blyth, has the playbook that will make all the difference in the success or failure of your business.

For more detailed information on Stuart's availability or to book him for your next event, please contact us at:

*Phone: +44 7788 914943
Email: stuart@onlydo.online
Web: www.onlydo.online*

